FOURTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

"Seek the Lord, all you humble of the earth, who have observed his law, seek justice and humility, perhaps you may be sheltered on the day of the Lord's anger. For I will leave as a remnant in your midst a people humble and lowly who shall take refuge in the name of the Lord... Blessed are they..."

How frequently do we hear the word 'seek' in the scriptures. 'Seek first the kingdom of God'.. 'seek and you will find'... Our Christian lives are calls, summons to action, not moments to sit back and do nothing. For this reason the beatitudes of Matthew today describe what action is required of us - to be poor in spirit or dependent upon God, humble, pursuing justice and holiness, be merciful, prayerful and peacemakers. Now is the time to get up and get going.

The Eight Beatitudes

Faith Formation News

February 1, 2026 4th
Sunday in Ordinary Time

”Blessed are the poor in spirit...”

Pope Benedict XVI once noted that each beatitude is the fruit of Christ looking upon his disciples: “The Beatitudes express the meaning of discipleship. What the Beatitudes mean cannot be expressed in purely theoretical terms; it is proclaimed in the life and suffering, and in the mysterious joy, of the disciple who gives himself over completely to following the Lord.” The Beatitudes demonstrate conclusively how God, in choosing the weak of the world, “shames the strong.” Therefore, with great certainty and conviction we, “the humble of the earth,” from the stance of our utter nothingness, “seek the Lord.” For it is due to him that we are in Christ Jesus—through his gaze on the mountain we become like him.

A Portrait of Christ and His Disciple

The Beatitudes, one might say, are not only the most profound revelation of the mystery of God but also a complete treatise on spiritual life. They show what we are called to be as Christians, what it really means to live the Gospel. They describe true human and spiritual maturity. A portrait of Christ, they are also the portrait of the mature Christian in Christ, a son or daughter of the Father who is free in the Spirit. They sum up the most perfect realization of human existence. A pathway to humanization, they are also a way of fruitfulness, showing us how to bear fruit that lasts, how to spread love and inspire others to true life....

The Gospel isn’t a legal code superimposed on life (and perhaps making it more difficult or complicated). Rather, it discloses the fundamental laws of existence and describes the conditions that make authentic, free, and fruitful love possible. Embracing the Gospel means going directly to the roots—to the simplicity and unity of life, by uncovering its ultimate meaning and understanding the conditions of true happiness.

The Beatitudes are intrinsically interrelated. Probing deeply into any one of them leads to the others. Nor can we truly live one without living all. They are inseparable, indissoluble. While each has its own specific nature and value, the person described by each phrase (poor, meek, merciful, etc.) is always the same person: a disciple of Jesus, considered in different aspects of his or her life. Similarly, the reward announced (inheriting the Kingdom, being consoled, being called children of God, etc.) is always the same, considered in different ways. It is always access to the Kingdom, entry into the richness of the mystery of God.

MADE FOR HEAVEN

Join Fr. Agustino Torres, CFR—founder of Corazón Puro—on a multimedia Lenten journey inspired by St. Francis. Begin the season with a vow of poverty and end at Easter with a heart free from the desert of sin and open to love, serve, and care for others.

Made for Heaven features stunning original art by Valerie Delgado of Pax.Valerie, along with daily meditations on a passage from scripture, reflection questions, prayer, and space for journaling and notetaking.

A life of simplicity and poverty orients you toward God’s love and reminds you that you are made for heaven. Torres says the best way to prepare yourself for that final destination is to live as true pilgrims who need to “travel lightly” and detach from earthly pleasures. In six transformative weeks, you will learn how to allow the Holy Spirit to move in your heart through a new theme each week.

Delone Catholic High School continues to accept applications for the 2026-27 year.
